

Subscription Service Support

This document sets forth the Subscription Service Support terms for CloudBolt's Subscription Service products. CloudBolt reserves the right, at our sole discretion, to amend these Subscription Service Support terms at any time and will update these Subscription Service Support terms in the event of any such amendments. We will notify our customers of material changes to these terms, at least 30 days prior to the change taking effect by posting a notice on our website or sending an email to the primary email address specified on the applicable Order Form. Customer's continued use of the Subscription Service Support services after those 30 days constitutes agreement to those revisions of these terms. For any other modifications, your continued use of the Subscription Service Support services constitutes agreement to our revisions of these Subscription Service Support terms.

- (c) Change in Services. CloudBolt may change the scope of Subscription Service Support terms at any time without notice. CloudBolt may provide notification of discontinuance of Subscription Service Support terms, in part or in its entirety, at any time either directly to Customer or through an announcement, at least 180 days in advance. CloudBolt will continue to provide Subscription Service Support during the 180 days or for the remainder of the then-current Subscription Service Term, whichever is longer.

Our response times will be extended by the time in excess of fifteen minutes while the Licensee provides availability and access to the relevant engineers within fifteen minutes (15 mins) of our initial receipt of the support request.

7. Support Access Methods

7.1 Email. Support requests may be sent to support@cloudbolt.io. If submitting an issue via this method, Customer must include the observed Severity Level in the email subject (e.g. "Subject: Severity 1 Application will not start").

7.2 Web. The CloudBolt self-service support portal is accessible under the "Support" section on CloudBolt's Support Home page <https://support.cloudbolt.io/>. In the self-service portal, Customer can self-select the observed Severity Levels. Although any user of Customer can submit a ticket via the Self-Service portal, only Named Contacts will receive a response. To enter the Self-Service Portal, Customer will need a user ID and password.

8. Service Levels

8.1 Availability. The Subscription Service will be available 99.9% of the time per calendar quarter, except for any downtime due to Maintenance or a Force Majeure Event ("Uptime Availability"). For any partial calendar quarter during which Customer subscribes to the Subscription Service, Uptime Availability will be calculated based on the entire calendar quarter, not just the portion for which Customer subscribed.

- (a) Uptime Availability Calculation: (total minutes in a calendar quarter – Downtime) / total minutes in a calendar quarter.
- (b) Downtime Calculation: "Downtime" is a period of time where the service was unavailable as determined by a combination of CloudBolt's internal and external monitoring systems.
- (c) Exclusions from the Uptime Availability Calculation are service feature failures resulting from (i) Customer's acts, omissions or misuse of the Subscription Service including violations of this Agreement, (ii) failures of Customer's internet connectivity, (iii) factors outside CloudBolt's reasonable control, including Force Majeure events, or (iv) Customer's equipment, services or other technology.

8.2 Maintenance. For purposes of the Subscription Service only, "Maintenance" shall mean any scheduled maintenance performed on the Subscription Service.

8.3 Service Credits. If the Subscription Service does not meet the Uptime Availability in any given calendar quarter (excluding any Maintenance or Force Majeure Event) and this downtime, in Customer's reasonable discretion, significantly affected Customer's ability to use the Subscription Service, then CloudBolt will credit Customer with an amount equal to five percent (5%) of the Subscription Service monthly fee for each one hour of general Subscription Service unavailability below 99.9%, up to a maximum of thirty percent (30%) of the Subscription Service monthly fee. Any such credit shall be applied to Customer's next invoice (or refunded if there are no forthcoming invoices). This credit is Customer's sole and exclusive remedy. Any obligations of CloudBolt under this Exhibit shall become null and void upon any breach by Customer of the Agreement, including any failure by Customer to meet payment obligations to CloudBolt.

8.4 Reporting. To file a claim under this Exhibit, Customer must send an email to support@cloudbolt.io with (a) billing information, including company name, billing address, billing contact and billing contact phone number; (b) Downtime information with dates and time periods for each instance of downtime during the relevant period; and (c) an explanation of the claim made under this Exhibit, including any relevant calculations.

8.5 Claims. Claims may only be made on a calendar quarter basis and must be submitted within 20 business days after the end of the relevant quarter, except for periods at the end of a subscription period that do not coincide with a calendar quarter, in which case Customer must make any claim within 20 business days after the end of the subscription period. All claims will be verified against CloudBolt's applicable system records. Should any periods of downtime submitted by Customer be disputed, CloudBolt will provide to Customer a record of the Subscription Service availability for the period in question. CloudBolt will only provide records of system availability in response to good faith Customer claims.
